Minno's Free "Church at Home" Program Bringing Sunday School Experience to Churches, Denominations During COVID-19

With Churches Across the Globe Empty, Minno
Partners with Families, Pastors, Church Leaders, and Congregations in 137 Countries to Continue Spiritual
Learning and Impact While at Home

(Nashville, TN—April 20, 2020) Due to the COVID-19 lockdown for over 300 million Americans, more than 160,000 faithful families have experienced church from the comfort of their own home in partnership with Minno—a new, Nashville-based children's digital media company featuring one of the world's largest collections of Classic VeggieTales and an expertly-curated collection of media choices for Christian families.

"Pastors are extremely busy...often overwhelmed, especially in the world's current chaos. Church staff, Sunday School teachers, and volunteers need creative help, and are often unable to get the top-shelf technology they require to serve the children in their congregations. Church-at-Home is literally a God-send...an angel at the door...encouraging and blessing families and children right now. This resource is an unquestioned home run, pouring spiritual life into the next generation when they need to be anchored in Biblical truth," said Jeff Farmer, President of the Pentecostal/Charismatic Churches of North America

In response to COVID-19, and the need for families to social distance and stay at home, Minno launched a free Church at Home program on March 14, 2020, providing families and pastors with an easy-to-use, home-based digital Church at Home experience. The content curated by Minno for Easter and for every week includes video services, discussion guides, prayers, and activities that enrich the experience of worshiping at home for children and the whole family.
